RICHMOND GAS RATE REDUCTION SEEN

NEW U. S. GUNBOAT AGROUND, REPORTED SINKING

BELIEVED TO HAVE ENDED OWN LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—UP—Belief that William Tallman, radio operator, wanted in Los Angeles in connection with the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patsy had committed suicide was expressed here tonight when the steamer Admiral Benson arrived at port. When police went to Tallman's stateroom on board the ship, they found the lock on the door broken and the radio man missing.

According to Capt. M. A. Fobert, chief officer of the Admiral Benson, Tallman disappeared about nine o'clock (night) when the ship neared the coast at Half Moon Bay.

Tallman was reported to be a good swimmer and officers of the vessel reported that he was a very brave, that he was an excellent swimmer.

Theories were advanced by authorities that either Tallman committed suicide, jumped overboard and swam ashore or he is hiding on board the vessel.

Tallman has been identified, according to Los Angeles police, as the man who rented the "love" apartment where the body of Mrs. Patsy was found by her landlady Tuesday afternoon. Her head had been beaten in by a brick and her body was hanged to a clothes hook by her own scarf.

SHANGHAI, June 6. (Thursday) —UP—The U. S. S. Luzon, flagship of the United States naval patrol in the Yangtze river, carrying Admiral Craven, struck rocks off Woonung breakwater last night and was reported to be sinking.

The British ship, H. M. S. Kent, which was following the Luzon, sent two motorboats to aid the damaged vessel, but one of these struck the rock and was damaged.

It was understood the Luzon crew was transferred to the U. S. S. Ohio and the U. S. S. Helena.

Bristol's office reported that the Luzon was damaged.

Utility District 25 Cent Tax Rescinded

OAKLAND, June 5.—Yielding to public demand, the East Bay Municipal Utility district board of directors at a special meeting today rescinded the twenty-five cent rate for delinquent payers of water bills.

The rate had been in effect since the Utility District took over the East Bay Water company. For all persons who did not pay in 15 days after the bills were sent, the district imposed a charge of 25 cents to pay the cost of sending collectors out.

Payment of the original bill was refused by the collectors unless the 25 cents was added.

A number of protests received from consumers, according to the district directors, convinced them that the 25 cent tax was unpopular and should be changed. The directors declared that the tax payers would lose almost $20,000 a year because of the rescinding of the order.

2 Ships Burned At Sherman Island Yard

ANTIOCH, June 5.—Fire, believed to have been started by a break in an acetylene hose line, destroyed two wooden ships at their moorings on Sherman Island last night and for a time threatened to destroy six other wooden ships, owned by Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco.

The ships were built during the World war and owned by the American Iron and Metal company of Oakland. A favorable shift in the wind is all that saved the Rolph ships from destruction, according to workmen. Neither of the vessels had a fire alarm.

Flaming embers were carried to the Rolph vessel's 200 yards away until the wind shifted. No effort was made to prevent the fire as there was no available equipment.

P.G.E. DENIED PLEA FOR RAISE

Richmond gas consumers face a temporary cut in gas rates with prospects of a further reduction later as the result of an order made by the State Railroad commission in San Francisco yesterday.

Charles L. Stacey, member of the commission, at the conclusion of the hearing of the application of the Pacific Gas and Electric company for permission to establish new rates when it brings natural gas into the bay region, ordered the company to keep its existing rates in effect for the present.

Since the company claims that the new mixed gas will be more efficient than the present artificial gas, experts declare this will amount to a reduction of almost 12 percent in the average consumer's gas bill.

Line Considered

The commission took under consideration the P. G. and E. petition for a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the gas line it is building from Bittern Valley and Kettleman Hills gas fields in southern San Joaquin valley, to bring natural gas to the bay district.

It is understood that the certificate would be granted. Seavy, secured company officials they could go ahead with construction.

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS, IF ANY

Confinement of this discussion in the senate to the four walls and the dignified members thereof may possibly elicit more frank views on personal appointments than open debate. There is a serious question as to this, however, for it is not prominent in make-up of a United States senator to conceal his opinions. In fact it would be better at times if he would do so for very many of them have as little bearing on the legislative problems of the Union as the price of gumdrops among the Eskimos. Behind the protection that usage gives to the senator, he will often call names, rant and cuss and express antagonisms that would earn him a black eye if he indulged his habits on any street corner.

The question of senate courtesies to the press is much in the public eye just now because a reporter for a national news gathering organization, used the privilege of the senate to prepare a poll on how the senate voted on the question of confirming President Hoover's appointment of Former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin to the federal bench. This reported, Paul Mallon, could not by any exercise of senate discretion be balked from discovering the personal views of senators, and from them preparing a poll. If he accomplished the feat in this way he was perfectly within the scope of an ethical news writer in doing so. It is certain and we state this from a more or less profound experience in reporting news, that had any senator given Mr. Mallon information in confidence, that trust would have been kept. A reporter who is good enough to be delegated by a world wide agency to cover so important a news source as the United States senate does not come by his job because his taste in neckwear pleased a manager, nor because he was the cousin of the wire editor. He got that job because he had advanced in skill—writing skill and news-getting skill.

TURN THE SYSTEM INSIDE OUT

From the inner sanctuary of the news business, we gleefully support and sympathize with Colonel Lindbergh. It is his privilege to go on a honeymoon and accustom himself and his bride to the new relationship of the married state, and it has been the further privilege of young folk since the unprivate days of cave dwellers to readjust themselves in a state of marked privacy. On the other hand a person of so marked a prominence as the colonel, is a provocation to every news seeker in the world. Among a big list of acquaintances in the profession of handling news, we do not know a man, not matter how exalted, who would not be proud of the distinction of uncovering the hidden honeymooners and "breaking" the story.

And still we put in a lick for the colonel. While he has not always been as genial as he ought to have been in his treatment of reporters, he is entitled to his point of view, and he has not lowered himself in the public esteem by his curtness with the questions of the press.

Whether he likes it or not the aviator has made it a game with the reporters. He dodges and they hunt. It does not seem that there is any way out of the situation. Happily honeymoons do not last long in either the accepted sense or in practical ways. The time will come when the most distinguished of living flyers will have to come back to earth—and to the purview of the press.

Our idea of the depth of oblivion is that achieved by the family that lives in the other half of the Coolidge duplex at Northampton.—Kansas City Star.

NEW ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS HITS TOWN

NAPLES, Italy, June 5.—(U.P.)—The eruption of Mt. Vesuvius became more violent this afternoon, threatening destruction of a number of mountain villages. Twenty students who were attempting to climb to a position where they could study the crater of the volcano peak at close hand were endangered and narrowly escaped with their lives.

The students, most of them from Naples university, had climbed to the edge of the boiling crater when an unexpected renewal of activity of the peak threatened their lives and forced them to flee. Smoke and flames were spouting 500 yards above the peak.

At the same time hot ashes were thrown far into the air and fell thickly on the towns of Somma and Ottaviano. The inhabitants of the two towns remained calm although neighboring villages, which have been evacuated or will be if the danger increases.

The evacuation of Terzigno started late Tuesday, was completed by early morning and the lava stream advanced on a 500 yard front through the outskirts of the village. One branch of the big stream was moving between Terzigno and Capiteo, towards Adino. Another was near Terzigno railroad station. Evacuation was carried out in orderly fashion and without the picturesque scenes which often mark such flight from mountain homes.

The military authorities commanded the evacuation and transported the inhabitants in motor lorries. The eruption has thrown up great fountains of molten lava and incandescent rocks. Recalling the most spectacular outbreaks in the history of the peak which destroyed Pompeii, officials said the present eruption was comparable to those of 1910 and 1820.

MACDONALD TO FORM NEW CABINET

ceiving the resignation of Baldwin Tuesday. He talked with the labor leader for fifteen minutes and Macdonald submitted to him the names of certain laborites who will be members of the second labor cabinet in the country's history.

List Soon

The full list of cabinet ministers probably will not be published until next week at which time the minor posts will have been filled. Macdonald plans to take a few days' rest after publication of the list.

Great Britain will be without a government Friday night.

The conservative cabinet members will relinquish the seals of office to the king on Friday, according to present plans, and the laborites will not receive them until the following day.

Macdonald went to Windsor shortly after 10 a. m. arriving there an hour later. There was a comedy at the castle gates when the sitting press of arms as the automobile of Sir Stanley Hewitt, one of the king's physicians arrived, mistaken for the labor leader's motor.

Meet June 27

Macdonald arrived with his son, Malcolm, who won a seat in the new House of Commons in last week's general election.

After his talk with the king, Macdonald remained in the castle half an hour before departing with Hewitt.

It was announced that the first meeting of the parliamentary labor party will be June 27. The new parliament will be convened June 25.

FRUIT FLY TO BE DISCUSSED TUESDAY

A second statewide meeting of agriculturists, bankers, transportation and state officials has been called by C. C. Teague, chairman of the Statewide Agricultural committee of the California Development association to discuss new developments on the Mediterranean Fruit Fly situation.

The conference is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, at Sacramento.

Reports will be heard from the special committee of the Development association which has just returned from Washington where it has been lending its aid in the fruit fly eradication fight in Florida in protecting the interests of California.

Director of the State Department of Agriculture, George H. Hecke, who has just attended a meeting in Washington of the Association of State Commissioners of Agriculture, of which he is president, is now in Florida and will be back in time for the meeting to also make a report of his personal findings on the situation.

D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist of the California Department of Agriculture, was in Florida at the outbreak of the fruit fly and will report on the progress of eradication in Florida and the scouting work in other states.

Every effort must be made, according to Teague, to protect the billion dollar investment in the fruit and vegetable industries of California.

OUTSIDER WINS ENGLISH DERBY

EPSOM, Eng., June 5.—The gri, of a game Irish thoroughbred carried Will Barnett's Irish to victory today over a field of great three year olds in the classic Epsom derby.

Hanging on gamely in a desperate stretch drive that left the named favorites far behind, the stout hearted Irish colt won by a length and a half from Lord Wootton's Walter Gay, with Somerville Taiter's a Brenz in third place, two lengths away.

A vast throng estimated at more than half a million witnessed the triumph of the outsider, Tizio, little fancied save by a few loyal Irish backers, priced as to 10 to 1.

Many odds.

This was the greatest of bet tag derbies of all the classic in exceeding back to 1786 and $200,000,000 changed hands when the winner flashed past the post stand, leading bookmakers reaped a rich harvest when the favorite failed.

Lord Astor's Crugadore was beaten when the third whiplash around Tiothman corner and straightened out for home, while at this stage of the race, J. Burn's Kopl, another of the public choices, fell. Major McAlmont's Mr. Jinks was never prominent, and Hunter's Moon, Lord Derby's colt, alone of the favorites ran well, finishing fourth.

The Prince of Wales received Barnett in the royal box, immediately after the race, and introduced the tall, smiling smooth-shaven Dublin corn broker to the Princess Mary, the Sultan of Zanzibar and other representatives of royalty. The crowd forgot its disappointment in cheering the fortunate owner, to whom the purse of nearly 75,000 means a great deal as he is of moderate means.

Chats With Prince.

"I always liked Trigo, your Highness," Barnett said to the prince. "I thought he had quite a good chance of bringing it off in the derby."

The Irish colt had finished ninth in the two thousand guineas, and so was not highly regarded by the turf experts, but R. C. Dawson, its trainer, had brought Trigo to the derby barrier fit for just such a gallant race as the winner ran today.

There were 26 starters in the derby, one of the largest fields in the history of the classic.

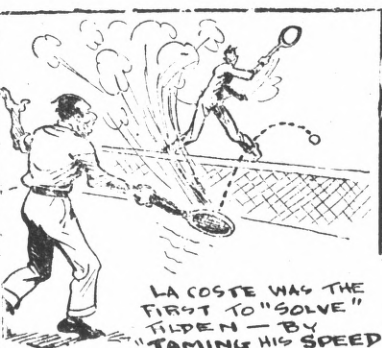

Brienz was beaten two lengths by Walter Gay for the place, the race being run in 2:36 2-5, considerably behind the record.

Hunter's Moon hung on to take fourth place, with En Garde fifth and Posterity, one of the two American owned colts in the race, sixth. Mrs. C. Gorney owns Posterity, while Gordon Selfridge had P. D. Q. in the race.

Ducks Lose Second To Oakland Nine

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—UP—The fast slipping Angels of Los Angeles continued their downward slide today when the San Francisco Missions, leaders of the Pacific Coast league, defeated them by a score of 3 to 1.

However the San Francisco Seals, who succeeded them to second place Sunday, also suffered a set-back, being beaten by Hollywood, 9 to 8. Oakland stayed in a tie with the Seals for fourth place by beating Portland, 3 to 2, and Seattle displayed its improved strength by trouncing Sacramento, 7 to 4.

Nelson was on the mound for the Missions and allowed the Angels six hits, holding them scoreless except in the ninth inning.

The Seals secured five more hits than the Seals and rallied in the ninth with two runs before they were retired, still one run behind the victors.

Oakland played consistent ball and allowed Portland to score only in the fifth inning while the Indians were victorious by virtue of six runs scored in the last four innings.

Yesterday Hays parked his car on a steep hill outside of his Mira Vista office. The brakes failed to hold and the car backed down the hill, narrowly missed a huge rock and then catapulted into a gully, landing right side up. A derrick had to be used to right the car.

GOLD MINING REVIVED IN HUNTERS

While successful gold mining has been carried on in Hunters Valley, Mariposa county, California, to some extent ever since the days of '49 when millions of dollars worth of gold was taken from the placer diggings in the gulches and creek beds; today it appears that this section, known as the "Quartzburg Mining District" is destined to be a big steady producer of the yellow metal, especially from the quartz mining.

Many new strikes have been made recently in this district and prospectors and mining men are now quite plentiful. It is claimed that samples of high grade gold quartz from one of the recent discoveries will assay better than $10,000 to the ton.

Road Work
Considerable road work has been done lately by Mariposa county, in view that it would hasten the development of mining interests. Several old properties are now in operation and new prospects are developing fast.

The Quartzburg Mining district has a good reputation among mining men owing to the fact that every mine that has ever been developed to any extent has produced millions for its owners and stockholders.

Richmond Office
The Quartzburg mining company, with offices in the Masonic temple, Point Richmond, according to company officials is getting ready for active operations. This company owns five rich gold quartz claims on the Northside 14 miles north of Hornsfort famous mining town of the days of '49. Considerable preliminary work has been done on this property and already two shipments of gold have been made to the mint in San Francisco from test runs from the small two-stamp mill erected some time ago.

Richard Buhlis, now employed by the Quartzburg Mining company as mineralogist, has recently disclosed some important facts pertaining to the richness and extent of the ore veins on this property.

"Gold is where you find it" but it has always been found in Hunters Valley and from present indications: a few years hence, we may look back on the day's of '29', officials of the company stated yesterday.

tion of the pipe line which is almost completed.

The phase of the gas company's petition in which it seeks permission to establish a new rate schedule for the new mixed gas will be open to further consideration by the commission.

Rate Cut Seen

Seavey indicated at the conclusion of the hearing that if the company does not voluntarily reduce its present rates, it may face an arbitrary reduction.

Protests against the present gas rates were lodged by Dion Holmes, special attorney for San Francisco and Preston Higgins, city attorney for Oakland who declared that "even the present gas rates, notwithstanding the alleged superior quality of the new gas, are exorbitant and unfair."

Other city attorneys joined in the protest. They declared that even a tentative rate schedule proposed by Claude Brown, gas administrator for the commission, would yield the company a return of about 7.5 percent on its investment. The company is now earning 9.24 percent, according to figures compiled by the commission.

"7 Percent Fair"

The commission dropped a hint that it had recently ruled that seven percent is a fair return for a substantially organized public utility.

An investigation to determine an entirely new rate basis before fixing a new rate schedule was urged by Holmes. It was hinted that this proceeding might result from the hearing at which the P. G. & E. and other companies had been given an opportunity to show cause why their rates should not be reduced.

Seavey's statement, which indicated that a reduction may be demanded, was as follows:

Seavey's Statement

"Unless the company would be willing voluntarily to reduce its present rates for artificial gas, then the commission would find it necessary to go into rate proceedings under the recent order to show cause why the company's earnings should not be reduced."

"The continuation of the present rates, instead of going ahead with the new rates proposed by the company, will at least not cause higher gas bills to consumers."
